Welcome to Maine.

Enjoy a region where business meets adventure and natural beauty inspires productivity. More than a meeting place, Maine is an exciting getaway that will keep your delegates entertained in every season of the year.

When you think of a great meeting, conference or event you've attended, it's usually the location that has left its impression on you. Whether it's the beauty of the place or the combination of activities and sights you've been able to take in on your free time, the choice of destination will leave its mark on your meeting or event for years to come. Now imagine a destination where spectacular scenery and a wealth of exciting activities create the perfect backdrop for your meeting, and you've just envisioned Greater Portland, Maine.

Once you hold a meeting in Maine, you'll see why the state's renown as a vacation destination is becoming matched by its reputation as a first-class meetings destination. Stunning natural beauty, rich culture and entertainment, exciting outdoor adventures, exceptional shopping, and extraordinary service all come together to create a magical place for your delegates to gather. And gather they will—the mystique of the country's most northeastern state is in part responsible for the large attendance of meetings held in Maine. The quality of service you'll experience here will ensure your event is one of the most successful ever.

So stop imagining that ideal destination and come experience Maine for yourself. We look forward to sending you home refreshed, energized and thoroughly pleased to have discovered Maine's magical fusion of business and adventure at last.

SPORTS.

From the mountains to the sea, Maine sports venues have played host to youth, amateur, national, international, university-level, and professional-level sports. Recently Maine hosted “Tough Mudder,” an event of 15,000 extreme competitors, and we’re excited to welcome bowling enthusiasts from around the country to the three-day Professional Bowlers Association league championship tournament in 2015.

Welcome to Maine.

Maine and sports—it’s a natural fit. With its diversity of terrain and changing climate, Maine is a destination fortunate to have an array of distinct, unique four-season sports activities. Maine has the space to hold large competitions and the services to ensure they run smoothly. From marathons & triathlons, to cycling and golf, to motor sports, sailing regattas and much more, the state’s natural resources allow for the widest range of sporting events.

While visiting, your delegates may want to catch one of the region’s semi-pro teams in a home game. Consider taking a family member or corporate client to cheer on the Red Claws, Portland’s basketball affiliate of the Boston Celtics. Or bring a group to the bleachers of Hadlock Field to take in a Portland Sea Dogs game and watch the Red Sox AA affiliate as they “play ball!”

Greater Portland is geared up for the excitement of organized sports and our convention team is eager to help you navigate the logistics of hosting a major league event in Maine. From skiing and skating, to dance and cheerleading competitions, to field sports – even beach volleyball – Maine has the resources to make your sporting event a slam dunk.

“Maine is a very attractive destination to showcase the best bowlers in the world and we are pleased by the interest of Maine businesses to bring the PBA here.” – Tom Clark, PBA Commissioner

WATERFRONT CITY.

Seascapes and cityscapes blend harmoniously in Portland, perched on a peninsula, jutting out into island-studded Casco Bay. The metropolitan hub of Maine's south coast region, Portland is a lively city that incorporates an historic atmosphere into a modern, urban environment.

Welcome to Maine.

Older architecture blends gracefully with the new as you stroll along the working waterfront or the cobblestone streets of the Old Port section of town. Portland is easy to navigate by foot, taxi or bus. Small parks and squares dot the landscape, offering comfortable respite for urban explorers. Intriguing shops and cozy coffee and teahouses beckon to passersby. Harbor cruises, trolley and architectural walking tours, as well as a wealth of galleries, are within easy reach, nestled along the waterfront.

On a stroll through the Old Port, one of the country's more successful warehouse revitalization efforts, you'll hear the squall of gulls and the low moan of bell buoys as you watch fishermen unloading their daily catch. Portland's waterfront is still very much a working port, an integral and thriving part of the local economy. Underlying the latest tech, fashion, and culinary scene is a natural authenticity and a deep sense of continuity. With sophisticated style and artistic sensibilities, Portland is never-the-less unpretentious and welcoming.

Maine's largest city has been steadily gaining a national reputation for its innovative restaurants and award-winning chefs. Join us in October for Harvest on the Harbor, a four-day waterfront festival celebrating the fantastic food, wine, products, and creative preparation that contribute to the state's culinary renown. Experience seminars and demonstrations, wine, beer and spirit tastings, and a culinary marketplace, all with a backdrop of ferries, gulls, and salty sea breezes. harvestontheharbor.com

Once your delegates get a taste for Portland, they're sure to want more!

GOING OUT.

Don't be fooled by Portland's small-town flavor—you'll find a diversity and sophistication of cultural, historic and entertainment offerings typically encountered in much larger metropolitan regions. Be sure to leave some time on the itinerary for your attendees to experience and explore our sights and attractions.

Welcome to Maine.

Portland, the cultural hub of northern New England, is home to professional theater and dance troupes, a fabulous art museum, and its own opera company and symphony orchestra. Historic homes and maritime museums honor the past's legacy and bestow an appreciation for how a long and fruitful association with the sea continues to shape the region today.

The region's culinary scene is also bustling. The national press has caught on to the fact that you can't walk down the street in Portland without bumping into several ways to treat your taste buds. Maine lobster continues to have a devoted following and a lobster and clambake with all the fixings, on the beach or other setting, can add that extra excitement that your delegates will long be talking about. In addition to the freshest of seafood, a smorgasbord of culinary tastes is on offer in a wide variety of casual to elegant venues. Greater Portland's microbrew movement is also thriving; locally brewed beer is served at most restaurants and pubs, and tour companies will drive you to sample drinks from Maine's local breweries, distilleries, and wineries.

“Overall the meeting was a huge success. We had record-breaking attendance and everyone was thrilled to be in Portland. The weather was absolutely perfect. Thanks for your help with all of my needs!”

SEASONS.

New England is blessed to have four seasons that each bring their own distinct pleasures. The clear, crisp days of autumn give way to winter's frosty elegance while spring's thaw is accompanied by new growth and brilliant floral hues. Summer is chock-a-block full of activities and also a time to unwind by the lake or on the beach, cooled by a salty sea breeze.

Welcome to Maine.

Your delegates will want to take advantage of the seasonal flavors on tap when they're here. Curling up by a winter's fire, rafting during a spring high-water release, picking apples, sailing on the bay—there's always something special to do to make the most of the time you've chosen to meet in Maine.

Throughout the summer, the skies fill with the sounds of outdoor concerts. A host of annual festivals celebrate everything from Maine performers and artisans, to the bounty of autumn's harvest, to the delights of winter. If the family is along, there's plenty to keep children actively entertained: baseball, hockey and basketball games, a children's museum and planetarium, ice-skating and rollerblading, parks and wildlife. Maine is a safe and comfortable destination where delegates often combine a family vacation with business travel. If you are looking to mix pleasure with business, hold your next meeting in Maine. You may run out of time, but never things to do.

“Our members were delighted at the prospect of visiting Portland for the association's annual conference – attendance was more than 30% higher than the typical meeting! The Portland CVB provided excellent planning support to our team, and worked with local businesses to prepare for our group's week in Portland.”

ADVENTURE.

When we say business meets adventure, we mean it—since Maine is one of the nation’s great outdoor playgrounds, you may want to combine your business meeting or convention with an exhilarating recreational outing. Or let your delegates discover their own adventure; just knowing what’s available to them is likely to make them more eager to attend your event. Whenever you come, a dazzling variety of activities await.

Welcome to Maine.

The Western Lakes and Mountains region offers superb downhill skiing, snowmobiling and rafting, while most other outdoor activities are easily accessible in Greater Portland. You can paddle gently in a canoe through the state’s largest salt marsh in Scarborough or take in a panoramic view of brilliant foliage on a fall hike up Bradbury Mountain in Pownal. Maine Audubon sanctuaries in Portland, Falmouth and Freeport are the ideal place for bird watchers to roam while golfers will find excellent country and coastal links, some ranked within the top courses in the nation.

Biking and kayaking are two of the most popular outdoor activities that can be done as a group and experienced guides are available to lead your group in both. Elegant schooners will sail your party down the bay for a close-up view of forts and lighthouses. Or you can don rubber gloves and haul traps with a Maine lobsterman. Try ice-fishing or skating on Sebago Lake where the ice goes on for miles...

From golfing to deep-sea fishing, we’ll help you find the perfect outdoor activities for your group. Or you may simply want to enjoy the views as you conduct business amid a natural backdrop conducive to productivity and clear thinking.

“The group liked meeting in Portland so much, they have decided to put it on a regular rotation. I can’t thank you enough for all your help with this meeting, could not have done it without you!”

LINGER.

Your delegates may want to extend their stay in Maine with a variety of pre- and post-conference trips. Our service team can suggest daytrips or weeklong outings; from the mountains to the sea, there's so much to discover and so many reasons to turn a business trip into a real vacation.

Popular Pre / Post Conference Trips

SOUTH & MID-COASTAL MAINE

Charming towns and villages dot the coast both south and north of Portland. Enjoy forts and lighthouses, amusement parks and maritime museums, salt marshes and beaches. Kittery and Freeport are home to wonderful outlet shopping, and outdoor outfitter L.L. Bean, in Freeport, is a destination unto itself.

BAR HARBOR & ACADIA NATIONAL PARK

Maine's only national park is located less than four hours north of Portland, near the resort town of Bar Harbor. The Park Loop Road, hiking trails and carriage paths offer spectacular views and a variety of activities. As you head north, visit the quaint villages of Boothbay Harbor, Rockport and Camden, boasting terrific art galleries, shops and windjammer cruises.

MOUNTAINS & LAKES REGION

Rustic cabins, camping, swimming and boating in the clear waters of Maine's lakes...if you love to be active outdoors, this is the region for you! Enjoy mountain biking, fishing, hunting, canoeing, kayaking, whitewater rafting, cross-country or downhill skiing, and the wildlife of these unspoiled landscapes.

THEMED TRIPS

There's something for everyone in Maine! Art lovers can follow the Maine Art Museum Trail and immerse themselves in works of art from ancient to contemporary. If lighthouses set you aglow, you can seek out the more than 60 beacons that illuminate the craggy coast. The Maine Birding Trail, is a valuable resource for avid birders who want to see Maine's feathered friends. Moose watching, whale watching and other wildlife tours are also available in various regions throughout the state.

“Maine is America off the beaten path. While most of the state remains as pristine as a primal forest, its villages offer a glimpse of contemporary Northern New England life inextricably linked with the past.”

TRAVEL.

Air access to Portland is excellent, with service from commercial and regional carriers averaging nearly 100 arrivals and departures daily from hub cities. Given its frequency of flights and convenient schedules, Portland offers your attendees service, access and availability that cannot be matched by most destinations its size.

The Portland International Jetport is conveniently located just three miles from downtown Portland, and many hotels offer free shuttle service. Rental car, taxi, van and stretch limousine, and livery services are also available at the Jetport. Limousine, bus and van services are also available from other nearby airports.

For motorists traveling from northeast cities, access by auto is a breeze; Portland is situated adjacent to Interstate 95 just two hours north of Boston and less than four hours from Hartford. Portland is also serviced by national and regional bus lines, offering numerous routes into the city. You can also ride the rails to Portland on the “Downeaster,” Amtrak’s passenger service between Boston and Brunswick. And Nova Star Cruises offers an entertaining travel experience between Portland and the Canadian maritime provinces.

Once here, you will find it a city easy to navigate. The Metro bus system offers convenient public bus service from outlying regions to downtown. Our service team can also hook you up with local motorcoach companies to provide a shuttle bus for your delegates and help you find parking for large city-wide conventions.

The next time you're bringing a group to greater Portland, take the direct route: fly into the Portland International Jetport (PWM). We offer non-stop service from dozens of cities, with easy connections throughout the U.S. and the world. And we are Northern New England's most affordable airport according to a recent survey*. Just a ten-minute drive from the Old Port, PWM saves your attendees all the cost, time and hassle of a two-hour drive from Boston to Portland.

And, PWM's recently expanded terminal and amenities— including Lobsters -To- Go and many favorite local brands—make going to the airport fun and convenient, just as you'd expect in Vacationland!

Reaching out into Casco Bay and welcoming newcomers to Portland, Ocean Gateway is the City's newest waterfront jewel. The spectacular setting of islands and water enhance the beauty of the architecture, which was designed to resemble the prow of a ship. This 5,600-square-foot, glass-enclosed facility is situated directly on Portland's Historic Waterfront. With its prime location, breathtaking views, and ample area parking it is the perfect spot to host your next corporate meeting, wedding reception, non-profit fundraiser, school function, and much more.

For information on booking Ocean Gateway and any other City of Portland Facilities including Merrill Auditorium, Portland Exposition Building and Hadlock Field please contact Clare Norton at 207-874-8200 or Clare@portlandmaine.gov
