Ljubljana Festival 2016

27 Jun - 13 Sep, various venues

The Ljubljana Festival, with its long history and tradition of presenting premier artistic events, contributes significantly to the cultural life of Ljubljana in the summer. The festival's rich programme of concert - opera, and ballet events features internationally renowned artists, including some of the world's most recognised names in music and performing arts.

The main venue of the Ljubljana Festival is the picturesque Križanke Summer Theatre, a gem of 13th century architecture rebuilt to its present form by the famous architect Jože Plečnik. Festival events are also held at a number of other prestigious venues in Ljubljana and its surrounding areas. For several years now, the festival opening has been held in Kongresni trg, one of the city's central public squares.

Be Who You are and Keep to it - a retrospective exhibition by Karel Zelenko

14 Jun - 25 Sep, International Centre of Graphic Arts

The exhibition features more than 100 art prints as well as paintings, illustrations and ceramics by the notable Slovenian artist Karel Zelenko. Born in 1925, Zelenko is one of the last living artists of his generation, who has been working as a freelance artist consistently throughout his lifetime.

His artistic vision has never conformed to current events and changes in art at home or abroad, remaining faithful to his authentic artistic themes and visual language to this very day. He remains surrounded by his world of figure and landscape, which he still uses to fulfil his artistic mission today.

Open: 10:00 - 18:00. Closed: Mondays

Save the Bees

21 May - 25 Sep, Ljubljana Castle

The Save the Bees exhibition explores the rich tradition of beekeeping in Slovenian-inhabited lands and examines the importance of bees for ensuring the Earth's biodiversity.

Held during Ljubljana's year as the European Green Capital, the exhibition presents beekeeping as a traditional activity related in many ways to the Slovenian way of life. Slovenian beekeepers are credited with domesticating the indigenous Carniolan honey bee, which is now the second most widespread bee subspecies in the world. Bee products such as honey, beeswax, royal jelly, bee pollen, propolis, and bee venom play an important role in traditional Slovenian cuisine and handicrafts, but they are also used in modern medicine. In the process of conserving bees, Slovenia, due to its biodiversity and high level of public awareness of the issue, continues to be a 'green oasis' for bees and is internationally renowned as a country of excellent beekeepers. The exhibition also presents Slovenia's rich cultural and artistic heritage related to beekeeping. Open: 9:00-20:00 daily.

Nikola Tesla - A Man of the Future

11 Apr - 6 Nov, Cankarjev dom cultural and congress centre

Nikola Tesla was an ingenious scientist, engineer, and inventor dedicated to discovering natural laws and principles. He received his education in Europe, but he spent most of his career in the USA, where he developed a large number of his inventions. He took out a total of about three hundred patents in the fields of electrical and mechanical engineering.

The exhibition Nikola Tesla - A Man of the Future is divided into the following themed sections: The System of Production, Transmission and Use of Alternating Current, The Principles

Genesis is the third long-term series on global issues by world-renowned photographer Sebastião Salgado (born Brazil, 1944), following Workers (1993) and Migrations (2000). The result of an eight-year worldwide survey, the exhibition draws together 245 spectacular black and white photographs of wildlife, landscapes, seascapes, and indigenous peoples - raising public awareness about the pressing issues and climate change.

Tuesdays at 12:00 and Saturdays at 19:00: The Salt of the Earth (France, 2014), a documentary movie screening in the City Museum of Ljubljana

Saturdays at 16:30 guided tours of the exhibition in the English language with the tour starting at: City Museum of Ljubljana, included in the entry fee.

Open: Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Sundays 10:00 - 18:00, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays 10:00 - 21:00. Closed: Mondays.

Zoran Mušič (1909-2005)

Permanent exhibition at the National Gallery

Zoran Mušič, the best known 20th century Slovenian-born painter and a man with more than one homeland, spent most of his life between Venice and Paris. He mostly painted landscapes, still lifes, portraits, Dalmatian donkeys and horses, trees, views of Venice, double portraits with his wife Ida, and poignant self-portraits depicting him as an old man. His visual motifs were always related to the Slovenian region of Kras and its typical scenes. He became world famous with his series of paintings We Are Not the Last, in which he relived the scenes he experienced in the Dachau concentration camp. Ljubljana's National Gallery displays the world's only permanent survey exhibition of Mušič's work. The majority of exhibited works come from the Ljuban, Milada and Vanda Mušič Collection, owned by the family of the artist's brother.

Open: 10:00 - 18:00, Thursdays 10:00-20:00. Closed: Mondays of Wireless Transmission of Electrical Energy, The Bladeless Turbine, Energy - The Main Subject of Tesla's Research, Tesla's Doctrine, and Tesla - A Modern Subcultural Hero. 21 Jun - Dec Slovene Ethnographic Museum

Temporary exhibition by SEM

Lace is a perforated fabric made of textile or similar threads with patterns of holes. It conveys messages of its manufacturing techniques and structure, use, temporal and spatial changes, and diverse meanings. It also symbolizes the invisible links between different time periods, places, and people.

The exhibition presents a great variety of museum laces and others by which the basic typology of ornamental techniques, traditional and other contemporary applications and multiple dimensions of their use is shown.

Among others, there is a collection of laces presented of the Slovene Ethnographic Museum, which is one of the largest in Slovenia

Open: 10:00 - 19:00, Sundays 10:00 - 14:00

Plečnik Collection

The new permanent exhibition at the Plečnik House in Trnovo presents the most important projects of the late architect. Plečnik's creativity comes to life through the plans, models and photographs of his creations such as the Zacherl House in Vienna, Prague Castle, the National and University Library in Ljubljana, the Ljubljana Central Market, Žale Cemetery, the Church of St. Michael at the Ljubljana Marshes and numerous other masterpieces. Several plans of Plečnik's never realized visions are also on display. The Cathedral of Freedom, the master's vision of the Slovenian parliament, is especially worthy of our attention.

Guided tours: every hour, on the hour (the last guided tour at 17:00). Groups must not contain more than seven people.

Open: 10:00 - 18:00. Closed: Mondays

Puppet Museum at Ljubljana Castle

Slovenia is a country with a rich tradition of puppeteering. The Puppet Museum's permanent exhibition, set up by the Ljubljana Puppet Theatre, introduces you to the history of puppeteering in Slovenia and the creativity of contemporary Slovenian puppeteers, presents the most popular puppet characters, and gives you an insight into puppeteering techniques and the process of creating a puppet show.

After viewing the exhibition, you can try your hand at puppeteering skills.

A beer lover's experience of Ljubljana

Ljubljana has a very long tradition of brewing, proof of which are 3,900-year-old beer barrels excavated at the Ljubljana Marshes. The earliest known brewery in Ljubljana dates back at least to 1592, and by 1796, the city had six breweries. Recent years have seen a rapid growth in the popularity of craft beers made by different microbreweries in Ljubljana and its surrounding area.

During the tour, you will visit five different drink outlets, including a pub, where you will taste eight different beers made by five different breweries, two based in Ljubljana and three in other parts of the Central Slovenia region. You will also visit the Brewery Museum, set up by the Pivovarna Union brewery, where the popular Union beer has been brewed since 1864, and round off your experience at the Pivnica Union pub.

Notes: The price includes expert guidance, beer tasting sessions, snacks, and a tour of Pivovarna Union's Brewery Museum.
The tour is only suitable for people aged 18 and over.

Price: 35€ per person
