Transcultural Concepts in Nursing Care Seventh Edition

By Margaret M. Andrews, PhD, RN, CTN-A, FAAN, Director and Professor of Nursing, School of Health Professions and Studies, University of Michigan—Flint, Flint, MI and Joyceen S. Boyle, PhD, RN, MPH, FAAN, Adjunct Professor of Nursing, College of Nursing, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ; Adjunct Professor of Nursing, College of Nursing, Georgia Regents University, Augusta, GA

DESCRIPTION

Transcultural Concepts in Nursing Care helps nursing students transform their thinking so they develop into culturally competent nurses capable of safe, thoughtful, and ethical care of individuals, families, groups, and communities of diverse backgrounds. Transcultural Concepts in Nursing Care takes a life span approach to describe cultural variations in lifestyle, habits, beliefs, and life process; and in doing so, provides a framework that will improve health and nursing care to minority, underrepresented, disenfranchised, and marginalized populations. Rather than just covering specific cultures and expected behaviors/beliefs of that culture, the authors provide students the tools they will need as nurses to effectively perform cultural assessments and incorporate their findings into their interventions. With more culture specific examples in this edition, the text offers the knowledge needed to provide culturally competent and contextually meaningful care for all clients. Fully updated in its seventh edition, this unique resource creates an interdisciplinary knowledge foundation reflecting the cultural changes in the clinical nursing environment.

The Transcultural Interprofessional Practice (TIP) Model, new to this edition, emphasizes the need for effective communication, efficient, client- and patient-centered teamwork, and collaboration among members of the interprofessional health care team. The TIP Model has a theoretical foundation in transcultural nursing that fosters communication and collaboration between and among all members of the team and enables multiple team members to manage complex, frequently multifaceted transcultural care issues, moral and ethical dilemmas, challenges, and care-related problems in a collegial, respectful, synergistic manner.

FEATURES

- ▶ Evidence-Based Practice boxes: Current research studies related to the content of the chapter are presented, including clinical implications of the research.
- ▶ Case Studies: Case studies based on the authors' actual clinical experiences and research findings are presented to make conceptual linkages and to illustrate how concepts are applied in health care settings.
- ▶ Critical Thinking Activities: Review questions and learning activities are included at the end of each chapter to promote critical thinking.
- ▶ New: Instructor's Guide on thePoint: Activities and discussion topics are provided to help instructors engage students in the material.
