A Letter From Pam Reynolds

Dear Valued Customer,

Thank you for giving Phoenix Textile the opportunity to assist you in your effort to improve and succeed in delivering excellent healthcare.

At Phoenix we stand by our commitments:

We are a company of integrity.

We are customer focused.

We deliver on the bottom line.

We value the individual.

We have fun along the way.

We are spanning the globe to bring you the best quality for the price, always giving you, the customer, the choice.

Our one-stop-shopping approach to purchasing textiles, design services and furnishings saves you time and effort. As your single source, Phoenix Textile offers a full range of interior textiles and products. We continuously research the latest styles and materials.

As always, we know the "customer is the boss" at Phoenix Textile Corporation. If ever our products, our services, or our people fail to act as you need, call me. My number is right by my name. We continue to grow by listening.

Kind personal regards,

PHOENIX TEXTILE CORPORATION

Our Commitments

"We Are a Company of Integrity"

"We Are Customer Focused"

"We Deliver on the Bottom Line"

"We Value the Individual"

"We Have Fun Along the Way"

Phoenix Textile Corporation's Ten Principles of Institutional Textiles

PRINCIPLE #1

Patient comfort & care are principle among the principles.

PRINCIPLE #2

One must consider "whole cost" when selecting a product.

PRINCIPLE #3

Proper par levels increase product longevity.

PRINCIPLE #4

Proper application increases the effectiveness and life span of products.

PRINCIPLE #5

Informed, cooperative and engaged end users are highly valuable assets.

PRINCIPLE #6

Proper product circulation and storage instills end-user confidence.

PRINCIPLE #7

Select tools that enhance the overall management of the textiles in your system.

PRINCIPLE #8

Manufacturing: It's not where it's made, but rather how it's made.

PRINCIPLE #9

On occasion a reusable product may not be the best solution.

PRINCIPLE #10

Be mindful of consultative expertise and integrity when selecting a vendor.

Microfiber preferred in

- Healthcare facilities
- Schools
- Hospitality
- Janitorial
- Business offices
- Personal home use

Conventional Mops

- Have a large, heavy mop head
- Require frequent changing of cleaning solution
- High chemical use
- High water use
- Labor intensive

Care Instructions

- Microfiber cloths can be washed and dried over 600 times; no bleach or fabric softener should be used.
- Microfiber should be washed and dried by itself, as it will attract lint and cotton from other fabrics.

Key Points To Remember

- Microfiber cleans surfaces without leaving streaks.
- Microfiber comes in various sizes – 12”x12”, 14”x14” and 16”x16”
- Microfiber may be imprinted with your logo.
- Microfiber mops can be laundered up to 500 times versus a conventional mop which is 50-75 times – 60% lifetime cost savings on mops.
- Mops and cloths remove more dirt, dust and grime with a single pass
- Less water used in laundry – up to 80% water reduction.
- Reduction in the time it takes to wring out a conventional mop versus a microfiber mop – 20% labor savings per day.

Microfiber Mops

- Light and ergonomic
- Prevent cross-contamination
- Dense, durable fibers reach into surface pores
- Cost effective
- Less work intensive
- Drastically reduce chemical and water use.

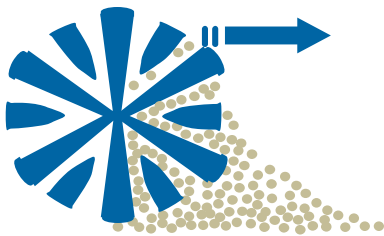

Microfiber

Microfiber consists of very fine threads of polyester and nylon that combine to form a single thread so thin -100 times thinner than a single strand of human hair - that when they are woven together they create a surface area 40 times more than that of a regular fiber, this expanded surface area dramatically enhances the absorbing power of microfiber cloths. In fact, microfiber cloths can hold up to 7 times their weight in liquid.

Ordinary cleaning towels move or push dirt and dust from one place to another, microfiber cloths actually lift or scoop the dirt and stores the dirt particles in the towel, until it is washed.

The wedge-shaped microfibers grab the particles of dirt and pull the dirt into its dense internal structure, whereas the rounded fibers on most cloths only push the dirt around.
