Comment Process

The public comment period opens on Friday, July 22, 2016 and closes Monday, August 22, 2016. Comments will be compiled and reviewed, and the documents may be revised, if necessary, based on comments received.

Comments must be submitted using the form provided. Marked up documents will not be accepted. If you have any questions about this, please contact Christopher Dent, Standards Development Coordinator, at cdent@aoac.org.

AOAC requests that the following guidelines be observed in providing comments:

1. For specific comments, please state the line number and/or range of line numbers in each document for which the comment applies.
2. Provide rationale as to why the editor should consider the comment.
3. Specify if the comment is editorial, content, or general comment.
 - a. Editorial comments provide additional clarification or correct typographical errors. Please suggest alternative wording for typographical corrections.
 - b. Content-related comments provide technical clarity and comprehensiveness. Please suggest the appropriate technical language. Documents will be reviewed by AOAC for technical accuracy and clarity.
 - c. General comments reflect a perspective on content documented/undocumented in the drafts. Please provide language that documents the perspective or position.
4. All comments are due on August 22, 2016. The AOAC editorial team will address all questions and reserves the right to not accept comments submitted after the deadline.
