A NEW WAY TO LEARN FOR A NEW WORLD

The world is changing. Education is changing. Today, how children learn is as important as what they learn. And that's the inspiration behind our extraordinary new Early Learning Campus. It's been built entirely for little learners aged 18 months to 6 years and is designed to encourage them to explore their natural inclination to create, design, engineer and innovate.

A unique "state of the heart" curriculum incorporates new units of inquiry in science, technology, engineering, arts, mathematics and innovation into the International Baccalaureate (IB) Primary Years Programme. Add to that a wide range of specialist programs in music, language and physical education, and the result is an exciting, new way of learning designed to help children succeed in a rapidly changing world.

A curriculum designed to help children make connections

The pace at which young children adopt new technology is astounding. The early years curriculum at Stamford American recognizes this propensity and encourages children's natural inclination to design, engineer and innovate with engaging, hands-on experiences, in an environment where they are viewed as active participants.

The curriculum is based on the International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme (IBPYP) which is integrated with new programs of inquiry incorporating STEAMinn - Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, Mathematics and Innovation. These key programs of inquiry are woven into every day moments of discovery, so children can make practical, real life connections to help them learn. The result is a unique "state of the heart" learning experience.

Developing a deep love and appreciation of music

Playing the violin improves concentration, enhances memory, fosters emotional development and prompts creative expression. In recognition of this, Stamford American was the first school in Singapore to offer the world-renowned Suzuki Violin Program from the age of 3 years, with the option to progress to the cello from the age of 5.

Children with a solid musical grounding are more likely to develop a life long love of music and are well prepared to progress through the International Baccalaureate curriculum in Elementary and beyond.

Foreign Language proficiency: the aim for every child

Singapore provides a wonderful opportunity for children to learn another language. Starting from 18 months, the language program at Stamford American aims to develop excellent communication skills in either Mandarin or Spanish. Consequently, all students from the age of 18 months receive daily language instruction from native speaking specialists.

For those students looking for a deeper language understanding, there is a well-established Mandarin/English Bilingual Program starting at age 3. Teachers focus on children becoming truly bilingual, biliterate and bicultural.

Come and see for yourself the difference this purpose-built environment can make to your child's vital pre-school years.

ESSENTIALS

Dear Members,

Happy New Year and Happy Lunar New Year! I hope your 2017 is off to a wonderful start.

As we get ready to ring in another new year, I can't help but reflect on the last one – particularly the redevelopment project and all the hours Members, management, and our consultants poured into it. Everyone is working hard to deliver a new experience that will surpass what we already have at The Club.

As you may know, Phase 2 of the project is now complete. We had a surprise near the scheduled end of this phase when we found an old swimming pool buried under our pool site that had to be hacked out. If anyone has images of this old pool (likely from the 1970s), please email them to me or drop them off at the Front Desk. We would love to share this bit of Club history with everyone.

The completion of Phase 2 and the demolition of the site was a significant milestone in the project timeline. What happened next, however, is even more significant and largely secured The Club's future. To be more precise, while the site was being demolished, our Tender Subcommittee and advising consultants were busy conducting the tender process for Phase 3 of the redevelopment (which encompasses the construction of the new building shell and core). The team worked tirelessly to review multiple bid submissions in order to make a recommendation to the General Committee. At the time of this printing, the team is now in the process of finalizing the appointment of the contractor for Phase 3. This Phase is within the anticipated cost.

So all of this is positive and, again, secures the future for our Club. For those of you who haven't had the opportunity to see the construction site yet, I encourage you to take a look through the viewing portholes next time you're at The Club. These portholes are cut into the window frosting on the main staircase landings – one level up from the Lobby and one level down from Level 3. They give a bird's eye view of what's happening on site. Alternatively, log on to our redevelopment website at www.redevelopment.amclub.org.sg to watch an amazing time-lapse video that captures the demolition of the Scotts Road building and poolside area over the past months.

I hope you've also been viewing the Schematic Design boards as they're being shared at The Club, on our redevelopment website, and via our redevelopment e-blast. The Detailed Design phase of the project has been in process for several months now, and is wrapping up in a way that makes the most of what we have, both fiscally and within the regulatory framework, to benefit the membership as a whole.

As you can see, the holidays haven't slowed us down much and we're continuing to work hard to deliver a Club that will benefit everyone. I appreciate your patience as the piling works begin and hope to see you in the halls as we all watch the new building take shape.

As always, please feel free to reach out to me at president@amclub.org.sg if you have any feedback or observations about the project.

FROM THE
GENERAL MANAGER

Dear Members,

I hope you enjoyed a relaxing holiday season and a bit of a break from work and school to recharge and unwind. This new year, we've got a myriad of programs and events planned to keep you and your family engaged as we look forward to continued progress on The Club's redevelopment.

One significant focus of the redevelopment project for management has been looking at ways to future proof The Club. We are putting much effort into exploring solutions that can enable our team members to work smarter, and not harder. As many of you know, labor market challenges continue to prevail in Singapore, and it is especially difficult to find eligible candidates in the hospitality field. With this condition projected to be the reality for the foreseeable future and with Singapore's shift towards the automation of services, we are looking at ways for The Club to leverage and maximize government funding opportunities to tackle this issue.

I'd like to share some of the opportunities we are considering for government funding. None of these initiatives have been confirmed, as we are still in the exploration stage of the process, but they highlight a few of the exciting possibilities as we look forward to our new clubhouse.

The first of these includes the implementation of a wine vending machine at our new gourmet shop that will not only allow us to store wines at the perfect temperature, but will also enable self-service wine and liquor purchases to create a more convenient buying experience while facilitating a quicker checkout process. Similar technologies we are exploring are the intelligent wine dispenser system, that allows for longer storage of wines, gives our sommeliers unparalleled control over our wine list with the option to offer more by-the-glass purchases, and allows Members to conduct self-service wine-tastings; as well as a touch-screen table top that can serve both as a functional counter top as well as an interactive wine browsing platform.

Our uniform distribution and laundry system is still labor intensive. The implementation of RFID technology on items such as our staff uniforms, linen and towels can significantly benefit our management of inventory tracking, stock taking, distribution and loss prevention of these assets. There is also huge potential for RFID technology to be scaled up and applied to many other areas of club operations as we reap the advantages of a fully automated, real-time data capture and analysis system.

On the IT front, The Club is exploring the use of an online table management system that will allow Members to make reservations for restaurants and Club events 24 hours a day, enable us to effectively manage our table inventory and guest information; as well as a customized mobile application that will open up a whole new world of opportunities in the way we engage, transact, communicate with and serve our Members.

While these represent just a small percentage of the many items on our 'wish list', The Club has also already embarked on the process of employing some of these newer technologies to great benefit. Back in the kitchens, the installation of four new Auto Filtration deep fryer machines in the past several months has translated to a 50% reduction in man-hours for used oil disposal and 77% less time for the cleaning of oil tanks, or a total savings of 652 man-hours per year by the Kitchen & Stewarding team. The shelf life of oil has now also been extended 3-fold, while the team enjoys a safer process and are better optimized as they can focus on other tasks.

I hope the above gives you some idea of the continual steps we are taking to change, innovate and improve with advances in technology. We will continue to explore these new ideas (and implement them where feasible) as we move forward with the redevelopment project – updates will be shared as we gather more information and make decisions.

If you have any questions or feedback, feel free to stop by my office the next time you're at The Club or drop me an email at generalmanager@amclub.org.sg.

Wishing you a prosperous Year of the Rooster!

A Literary Evening: Olivia & Sophia

by Rosie Milne

Literary enthusiasts gathered at the Adult's Library on Tuesday, November 8 in anticipation of author Rosie Milne's book launch. Her historical fiction title, Olivia & Sophia chronicles the difficulties of being an expat in Singapore 200 years ago! The cosy event ended with a sale of the novel after an engaging reading session. We hope all Members had a fun evening!

GINGERBREAD WONDERLAND

Helmed by Pastry Chef Yeni Sukowati, the Gingerbread Wonderland was a huge hit as parents and children alike were enchanted by the intricate and whimsical creation.

Yeni and her dedicated team, comprising Chefs Teo Chew Ming, Iris Tan Hong Kia, Lew Kar Choong and Chanel Er Ler Sen, spent almost 2 months brainstorming and preparing for the creation of the Gingerbread Wonderland, an amalgamation of urban cosmopolitan landscape and ethereal forest.

The team hoped that their colorful creation would help to spread some festive cheer at The Club. They certainly succeeded, as Members were delighted by the beautiful installation that was put on display at the Lobby during the month of December!

Christmas Tree LIGHTING CEREMONY

The infectious Christmas spirit was in the air, as Santa Claus paid a visit to The Club on Thursday, December 1 for the highly anticipated annual Tree Lighting ceremony. This year, the Stamford American International School Choir delighted the crowd with renditions of popular Christmas songs, while Members got to enjoy The Club's signature eggnog and freshly baked cookies. The night ended with some fun photo opportunities with Santa at The Zone!

Special thanks to Resorts World Sentosa and SAIS for making this event a resounding success.

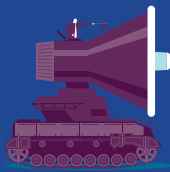

A Green Christmas

Congratulations to the Chanda family for winning our DIY Christmas craft contest!

From September 24 to November 4, Members had the opportunity to showcase their creativity and talent by using recycled items to create DIY Christmas ornaments.

THE AMERICAN CLUB REDEVELOPMENT PROJECT UPDATE

THE NEW SWIMMING POOLS

Our new poolside area will have three swimming pools: a 25m lap pool, a 15m training pool, and a baby pool that graduates from 2" to 12".

As part of the due diligence around designing the new pools, The Club considered a conventional chemical chlorinator system (similar to the system in our old pool), a saltwater chlorinator system, and a copper/silver ionizer system.

After exploring all the systems and the pros and cons associated with each one, The Club has decided to move forward with a conventional chemical chlorinator system for several reasons:

* As decided by the Youth and Family committee, a children's water play area will be incorporated into the baby pool instead of standing external to the pool as shown to the left.

1 It is the most economical option. The procurement and installation costs for a saltwater chlorinator are 3.5 times as expensive and 7 times as expensive for a copper/silver ionizer.

2 It is the easiest to treat and maintain within NEA guidelines. The treatment of a saltwater chlorinator pool requires more work due to The Club's very high usage level and the fact that the pool is outdoors and subject to UV rays and the haze, both of which negatively impact the chemical levels in a saltwater chlorinator pool.

3 The sanitization process is effective. In a copper/silver ionizer system it takes considerably longer to sanitize the pool, as the process is slower-acting in nature; this could be an issue due to our high usage rates.

PROGRESSION OF FACADE DESIGN DEVELOPMENT

MEMBER-SELECTED FACADE OPTION

Thank you to the 615 Members who voted on the facade design options in September.

Option 1 (shown right) was the winning design with 30.57% of the vote. This design was given back to the architects to develop further.

INCREASED GLASS AT VOID

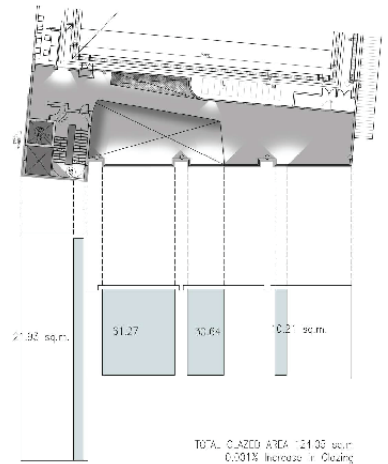

This image shows the progression of design development for Option 1.

Due to a double-height playspace that has been designed in the Youth area, which fronts Scotts Road, it was decided to create a full glass window on the left to allow natural light into the space and give children a view of the outdoors.

REDUCTION OF GLASS AND INTERMEDIATE PANELS

Based on feedback regarding air-conditioning concerns and cleaning of the windows, the design was further developed as shown to the right.

This still allows for the full windows in the double-height Youth space, but minimizes the amount of windows in the tower on the left and in the intermediate panels.

The design of the facade continues to be developed with the architects. Members will be kept informed as the design develops and a final design is reached.

THE THREE Sommeliers

Alexandre Dumas might have his three musketeers, but right here at your home away from home, we have our three sommeliers for all your vino needs!

Introducing Associate Sommelier Lei Dong from The 2nd Floor, who is well-known in the local circle of wine students and educators for his passion of less-discovered wines. Although young in age, he more than makes up for it with his experience. The wine enthusiast was awarded second place in the 2015 edition of the Wine Specialist challenge and is also an elusive French Wine scholar.

Those who frequent HOME will find Samuel a familiar sight. A true veteran in all senses, Samuel has worked in top restaurants all over Asia, including Hong Kong, Shanghai and Singapore. His numerous certificates aside, the wine enthusiast is eager to share his love and in-depth knowledge of wine regions and styles. He is particularly well-versed in how best to pair your delicious home-cooked or catered food with exquisite wine!

Last but not least, Alvin, The Club's Senior Beverage Director started his wonderful journey into the world of wine from his immense passion and love for all things alcohol. The only Singaporean to hold the Advanced Sommelier title, Alvin has represented the country in both the World's Best Sommelier and Asia's Best Sommelier competitions.

Come chat with our passionate sommeliers about your next B.B.Q wine pairing or bash! Let us solve your headache on which wines go best with a slab of juicy steak or a tender piece of grilled salmon. Or if you have been searching for a particular bottle of wine, let us know and we can source it for you!

For more information or enquiries, please email sommelier@amclub.org.sg.

WINE RANT

2016 Vino Vintage Report

By Alvin Gho
Senior Beverage Director

In April, news of Spring hail hitting Burgundy hard spread through the vino world – the resulting consequence is frost affecting both Burgundy and Champagne in France, which spells trouble for the beloved 2016 vintage.

Over a comforting supper shared with fellow wine professionals on a hot night, worries regarding the catastrophe that could affect 2016's wine production and quality emerged. Our fretting was not unfounded; some winemakers in Chablis have already cancelled their entire vintage production, with no wines produced or labelled under their brand.

Likewise in Champagne, rumour has it that some producers have lost up to 70% of their crops – but this does not necessarily mean a sharp decline in wine production this year. Very often, Non-Vintage champagnes are blended with reserve wines, so it is highly likely that the only thing we may be missing from Champagne this year is the Vintage ones.

But while production has decreased, quality may not necessarily go the same way.

Elsewhere in Bordeaux, 2016 has been reported as one of the driest summers since the 19th century. The intense heat may be uncomfortable for its citizens, but winemakers are certainly rejoicing; dry weather has always been associated with high quality grapes, which often means high quality wines.

Unlike its counterparts in Champagne, Loire and Burgundy, wine production in Bordeaux has increased slightly year on year.

All in all, 2016 looks to be an interesting year for vino lovers. Stay tuned for the next instalment of Wine Rant!

GYM SUBCOMMITTEE

It's a brand new year, and one of the most common New Year's resolutions is to keep trim and fit! The Club offers a variety of programs to help Members attain these goals – from regular tennis, pilates or personal training sessions to trendy POUND workouts, our program has something for everyone. All this is made possible by the Gym Subcommittee, whose mission is to create a first class wellness program that addresses Members' needs by providing a total and diversified offering in body, mind and spirit.

This is achieved through a combination of the gymnasium, spa and education opportunities across ages and levels, usually covered in the Subcommittee's monthly meetings. Other than discussing ways to improve existing programs or upcoming plans for the Gym, the Subcommittee is also heavily involved in the planning of the new Gym that will replace the existing one after redevelopment.

Members can look forward to a new studio space, new size and layout of change rooms as well as revamped fitness and leisure classes after redevelopment.

Many might also not be aware, but the Gym offers much more than fitness programs. In line with the Subcommittee's mission, the Gym has conducted Chinese Brush Painting classes, Elementary Photography classes and even Social Ballroom classes – all aimed to promote a healthy mind on top of a healthy body!

Other than ensuring Gym programs inspire healthy lifestyles among Members, the Subcommittee is also committed to making sure Members have the best equipment possible to help attain their goals.

Most recently, the Subcommittee initiated the replacement of 21 cardio machines in the Gym in November and December 2016. This makes us the first and only club in Asia (at time of print) to carry the Black Diamond series of equipment from Technogym – Artis Diamond Black Series treadmill and Synchro Excite Series elliptical!

For those who have yet to join any of the Gym programs or are hesitant about making a lifestyle change, the Subcommittee has a few plans in mind that might entice you to join us right away! These include new Member engagement programs for those who are new to the Club or sport, new cycling challenge for the New Year, improvements to the bi-weekly fitness workout program and new Group Fitness classes such as Bollywood Fitness and Belly Dance classes.

For more information or enquiries, please call 6739-4312 or email sportscounter@amclub.org.sg

“SPIN THIS”

10 WEEKS, 500KM INDOOR CYCLING CHALLENGE

by Carla Portelli

It was with trepidation and zest on Wednesday, November 9, when more than 20 ladies finished the last lap of their “Spin This” 10 weeks, 500km Indoor Cycling Challenge, launched to commemorate the exciting U.S. elections. Spin Class Instructor Erin Isernhagen was looking to motivate her students to spin further and more frequently, and decided on this innovating Indoor Cycling Challenge with the ultimate athletic reward – a customized finisher singlet!

Class sizes increased during the ten-week duration, as Members took to the challenge with visible enthusiasm. A mirrored wall in the spin studio was also temporarily converted into “Spin Central”, listing weekly and overall mileage totals to encourage friendly competition.

The challenge may be over, but Spin has never been more fun. Come down now and sign up for our amazing Spin classes!

A big congratulations to Carla Portelli, Ngiam Siew Wei, Keerthana Brown, Tracy DeLuzuriaga, Patricia Sadayasu, Rachel Maher, Carolyn Edds Pearl See-Thoe, Melissa Edwards, Gita Raj, Marion Hollier, Pramila Chanrai, Ami Jobanputra, Shelby Pazos, Maureen Birdsell, Tina Datta, Rahul Joshi, Brian Birdsell, Edward Lee, Seema Joshi and Michiko Murphy for completing the challenge!

RESPECT THE BASICS

More often than not, many of those who wish to embark on their fitness journey after a prolonged period of sedentary lifestyle mistakenly aim for the stars – when in fact it would do them better to go back to basics. Mobility and bodyweight training is one of the many ways we can go back to basics. Just like how we warm up our cars before we drive off in the morning, we must also ensure we warm up our bodies upon rising before we start our days. We are asleep for six to eight hours during the night and our bodies become stiff. Hence, it is essential that we spend five to ten minutes every morning warming up our bodies with simple exercises and movements to ensure maximum mobility.

Start from the top with some joint mobility exercises. Rotate your head, shoulder, hips, wrists, elbows and knees to loosen your joints. This simple exercise only takes a few minutes but we often overlook it. For those who are extra diligent, you can even do this at your office desk periodically throughout the day to energize yourself and beat the stress of work!

Next, increase your flexibility by practicing basic movements such as squatting, picking up things from the ground, planking, push-ups and even crawling. These movements will help one achieve the desirable range of motion of flexibility, strengthen joints and prevent injuries in the long run.

These simple warm-up exercises will prepare our bodies for more complex exercises, or simply to get our motors running after a sedentary period. It is important to first understand how our body works before attempting to use external equipment such as dumbbells and barbells. Take gymnasts for example; they work primarily using their own body weight and only lift weights as a secondary option to improve their physique!

With a new year comes new resolutions – start your day with these simple warm-up exercises for a healthier body!

AM I HELPING OR HINDERING MY CHILD AS HE/SHE DEVELOPS AS AN ATHLETE?

Should I help my child do everything?

Parents might be tempted to help their child, and a lot of the time, it is easier to do miscellaneous small things like packing their sports bag, filling their water bottles or carrying their sports gear for them, but your help might hinder their learning.

While these small acts of goodwill might make both your life and your child's life easier, it actually creates dependent young athletes instead of independent young athletes. Have your child be responsible for all his belongings, and this will help to build a strong sense of confidence, self-belief, resilience and self-reliance.

Am I overstepping boundaries at training sessions?

Coaches coach and parents parent; parents select coaches for their children based on the coaches' expertise in their respective fields. Coaches help develop your child's physical skills specially for your child's sport. Parents, on the other hand, help children learn values that will help them develop positive character traits that will sustain them through their lives.

Am I being influenced by outside sources?

Coaches spend years learning how to write the best possible programs for their athletes, how to enhance their athletes' skills, improve their techniques and how to make the training environment as efficient as possible.

Every coach will do things differently and that is perfectly all right. Parents sometimes might get apprehensive when comparing programs across institutions, but please be rest assured that every program is tailored to the child's abilities and based on the coaches' experience.

Am I talking to my child too much about his sport?

We understand that both you and your child are extremely passionate about your child's chosen sport, but please take some time to develop their interest in other aspects too! Encourage your child to take an interest in areas other than sports – for example, the arts, politics or literature – to encourage a well-rounded child, teenager and young adult.

Should I be expecting personal bests and improvements all the time?

It is unrealistic to expect your child to swim personal bests during every training session, as there is a variety of factors that contribute to it. Personal bests will come when your child is ready, and coaches will do their best to help your child achieve it.

RIGHT PLACE, RIGHT TIME+

On Tuesday, September 20, 2016, The Club encountered a near-drowning incident at Bukit Merah Lifestyle Complex. Our long-time life guard Rodel heard some yelling in the 50m pool but thought nothing of it, until two teachers from the ISS International School pulled their student, a boy of approximately 14 years old who had lost consciousness, from the pool.

Rodel rushed over and attempted to keep him alert, while Aquatics Manager Elspeth and lifeguard Benneton got the oxygen mask and automated external defibrillator in case it was needed. The ambulance had arrived and our team managed to give the crew valuable information before the victim was sent to the hospital.

We are pleased to announce that he regained consciousness in the hospital despite having some water in his lungs and is expected to make a full recovery. Kudos to our capable team!
