The landscape for passing school tax issues is changing. Thanks to a perfect storm of converging political and economic realities, how we structure, deliver and pay for education in our public schools has reached a tipping point.

While many things will be in flux as we move forward, one thing, however, is certain. The need to pass school tax issues is not going away. As the financial watering hole continues to dry up, we'll have no choice but to turn to our local taxpayers for help. This workshop focuses on how to harness the power of public engagement to build a clear and compelling case for maintaining local support for our schools.

Compliance Officer Training

Calling all district compliance officers...

The role of the district's compliance officers is often overlooked. However, the compliance officer's actions are usually the difference between success and failure when defending discrimination complaints filed against the district.

BASA, in partnership with Walter | Haverfield LLP, is pleased to offer training for district compliance officers. This workshop is targeted toward all compliance officers – employee and student. Join us for an informative and interactive program where you will learn about:

- Processing and Investigating Complaints (Title VII, Title IX, Section 504, ADA, FMLA)
- Expectations of EEOC, OCRC and OCR
- Importance of Clear and Attainable Expectations in Board Policy
- Avoiding Retaliation Claims
- Handling "Frequent Flyer" Complaints

Whether you handle compliance for employees or students, this program will provide you with "need to know" information and practical tips.

BASA PROFESSIONAL LEARNING TOUR
GLOBAL STUDENT LEADERS SUMMIT

Italy

9 days | July 2-10, 2017

To prepare today's students for tomorrow's world, it's important to give them the skills necessary to compete in an increasingly interconnected global economy. To be competitive, students—and their teachers—must understand the world around them, from cultures and languages to economic and social systems. They must become globally competent. The best way to achieve this is by mastering today's essential 21st century skills, including global awareness, problem solving, collaboration and critical thinking. Through global education, students will be better prepared for college and beyond.

Through our partnership with EF Education, we are proud to offer an EF Professional Development Program to Italy, July 2-10, 2017. The program runs from Rome to Florence as an immersive tour experience finishing in Turin where you will join a delegation of leading United States educators having the opportunity to participate in workshops. Student observation as they collaborate in a 2 day design thinking program. (The Global Student Leadership Summit) is an additional highlight.
