A MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD OF JUNIOR SCHOOL

Dear Parents, Families and Friends

This year, students from Year 4 to 6 have been invited to take part in this year's Junior School Musical, Alice in Wonderland Jr. We believe it is important to provide opportunities for students to perform in front of others and we are very pleased to have a large number of students take part in this year's musical.

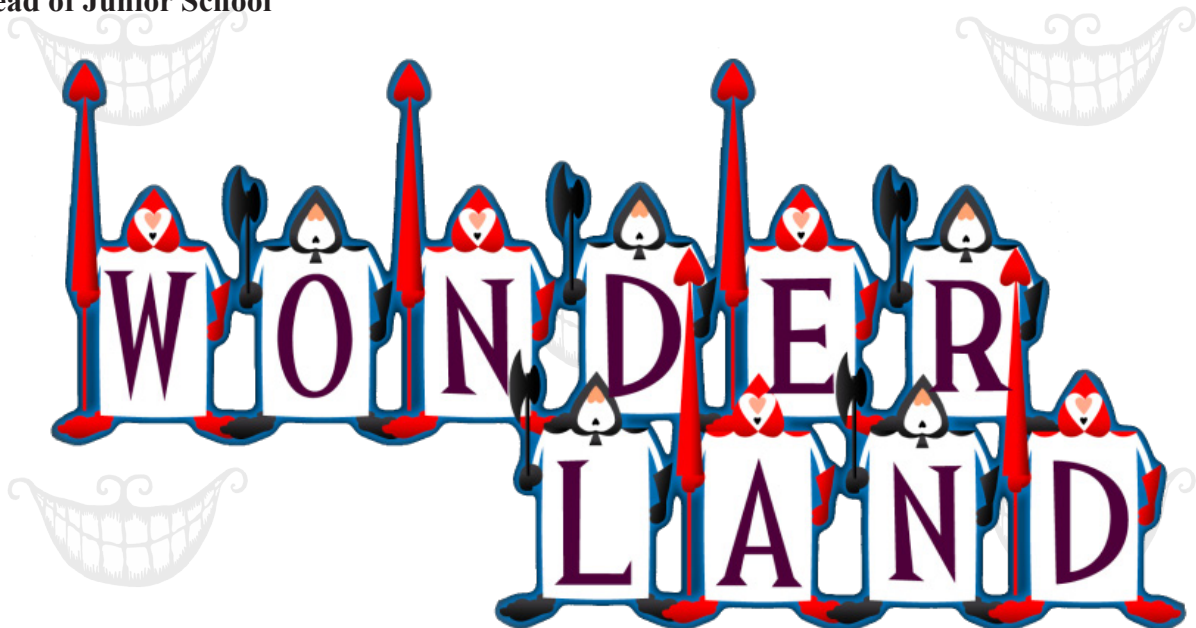

I am very proud of our students' efforts and I know you will be amazed at how well they perform on stage. To the students, I want to say a very big thank you... thank you for your efforts, for your exceptional behaviour and for your enthusiasm. Thank you for committing to this musical, regardless of how many rehearsals there have been and how much time you have given up. You have been a delightful group of students to work with and I look forward to your involvement in many more musicals over the coming years.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank the many staff who have worked tirelessly over the past term and a half to ensure this year's musical is a great success. In particular, I would like to thank Mrs Brigitte Weintrop, Ms Sara Rosentreter and Miss Melissa Black, our Directors and Musical Director.

There are many other people, both staff and parents, who have contributed to this year's musical and without their willingness to assist, we would not be where we are now. So to these people, I also say a very big thank you!

Finally, I hope you enjoy this evening's performance. Thank you for your attendance. Now sit back, relax and .....”Don't be late for this very important date!”

Paul Taylor
Head of Junior School

FROM THE DIRECTORS

WHOOOOO ARRRRRE YOUUUUUU??

We have all seen the movie but have you seen it come to life on stage? Don't worry – be happy that tonight is the night you experience this spectacle live on stage. As our first ever time directing the musical at Somerset College we are proud to present this quirky and hilarious production of Alice in Wonderland Jr.

From talking cats to Tweedle Twins and the strangest tea party experience, we will be taking you on an adventure down the rabbit hole and into Wonderland to find out who Alice truly is. Where will she fit in? Will she join the Golden Girls in their club or race to the end in the Caucus Race? Hopefully she doesn't lose her head along the way.

We would like to sincerely thank all of the cast for their energy and excitement at rehearsals. You have been a delight to direct and we hope you have enjoyed yourselves as much as we have.

Tonight we are very excited to finally bring to you the Somerset College Junior School version of Alice in Wonderland Jr. with all of its wonderful characters; brilliant music, dance and huge entertainment value. After months of preparing and rehearsing, "we are all a little mad here" but eager to share all of the wonder that is Alice in Wonderland Jr. Enjoy.

Sara Rosentreter and Brigitte Weintrop
Directors

FROM THE MUSIC DIRECTOR

Haven't you noticed we're all a little mad?

This year's Junior School musical Alice in Wonderland Jr. offers children an opportunity to explore the realms of their imaginations, in a journey of self-discovery through a magical and wacky place we have come to know as Wonderland. Through Alice, children are invited to step into nonsense roles of rabbits living in houses, talking cats, party goers who live by their own rules, sea creatures of talking fish and rock lobsters, co-dependant twins suffering from acute late onset identity crisis, royal cardsmen and terrified subjects, a very zen caterpillar and sassy mean-girl flowers as they tell a story through song.

Thank you to the cast, crew, production team and entire company for making my job so much fun, and for your many hours of preparation for this spectacular show. Choosing the Alice cast was not easy. In fact, it was sometimes that the role picked the person, as voices needed to match the character's set range. The students in the chorus and lead roles have shown continuous enthusiasm, energy and beautiful in tune singing throughout the rehearsal process. It has been a delight to watch children step into their characters and surprise us with their vocal, performance and comedic abilities. The children have shown great initiative in learning the materials for the whole show independently, including musical items which they may not be on stage for. Through learning the songs at home, this meant we were able to use our time efficiently to polish and practise the pieces to the performance standard you are about to see. This talented cast can not only act and dance with enthusiasm, but sing with diction and clarity, blend within a chorus, use expression, breathe appropriately and musically, use accurate lyrics with pitch and rhythm and at the same time sing with a beautiful tone. Lot's to think about when you are under a spotlight in front of a full house!

After learning the music, our cast needed to figure out how their characters would sing, and this sometimes meant thinking outside of the box. We hope you enjoy how our company reveal their individual characters not only with their costumes and staging, but through their voices. It is here that the finale piece Whooo Are Youuu speaks more than words, where Alice has to decide where she fits in.

As the audience, you may pick up on a few musical references, including a homage to Gilbert and Sullivan's H.M.S. Pinafore, Disney's Song of the South and rock/pop song arrangements from Disney's original 1951 film Alice in Wonderland with lyrics based on Lewis Carroll's verses. The music in Alice in Wonderland Jr. really helps to set the story of Alice's madcap adventures – you may in fact sense something unusual is happening before you see anything on stage. Let the music help you interpret and discover each of the characters. What does the music tell you about the Caterpillar? What kind of party do you think the Unbirthday Party is, just by sound alone? How do the subjects feel about their queen? Let your senses guide you as you take a trip down the Rabbit Hole, into a world of your own.

Melissa Black

FROM THE PERFORMING ARTS CAPTAINS

Travel down the rabbit hole with Alice as she experiences a magical journey filled with laughter, confusion and excitement. This year about 100 students have embarked on the adventure through Wonderland and have created some crazy characters along the way. The whole cast has worked really well together allowing us to make new friends and make this musical the best one yet.

We would like to thank all teachers involved with making this amazing experience possible for us. Thank you to Miss McMillan for choreography, Miss Black for music, Miss Skyring for makeup, Mrs George for helping us out with acting and finally a big thank you to Miss Rosentreter and Mrs Weintrop for choreography and organising costumes and directing the musical in general.

This has been one of the most fun and enjoyable productions we have been a part of and are so grateful to have built new friendships that will last a long time. Thank you to all of the beautiful cast members who have made this possible.

We can't wait to see you there and we hope you enjoy this year's Junior School Musical – Alice in Wonderland Jr.!

And just remember “don't worry, be happy”.
