WHAT'S NEW in NY?

BROADBENT

Malbec Sunflower, Mendoza 2015

NOW IN ONE LITER BOTTLES**

Broadbent wines are made to the specification of Bartholomew Broadbent in collaboration with his partners in Argentina. The grapes are hand-picked and fermented in stainless steel tanks. After spending six months in French (70%) and American oak (30%), the wine is bottled and cellar aged for three months prior to release. Now available in eco-friendly one liter bottles which contain more wine, but involve less waste. Page 20

SADIE FAMILY

Sadie Family

2015 VINTAGE NOW IN STOCK

Eben Sadie is considered one of the great preservationists and visionaries in the new generation of South African winemakers. To Eben, the vineyard and fruit are part of the story – the truest expression of his art and philosophy. The wine writer Neal Martin recently called Sadie an “outspoken, peripatetic, terroir-obsessed winemaker who has been instrumental in putting Swartland on the map. He produces a small portfolio of comparatively expensive, but highly coveted wines based on Rhone varieties sourced from his seemingly never-ending search for pockets of old bush vines and unique terroirs. These are cerebral wines built to age.” We received the 2015 vintage, produced in very small quantities, but they are extraordinary examples of South Africa’s winemaking potential. Page 37

DOMAINE Lafouge
JEAN & GILLES

Domaine Jean et Gilles Lafouge

Now managed by Gilles Lafouge, whose family has been in the tiny village of Auxey-Duresses since 1650, this Domaine is one of the top producers in the appellation. The vineyards, in transition to organic farming, are tended meticulously and hand-harvested. The wines are precise, subtle, fruit forward, and terroir-driven, transcending any overly rustic characteristics traditionally associated with the appellation. White wines are vinified in barrel with natural clarification and red wines are de-stemmed, vinified in barrel, and bottled un-fined and un-filtered. Page 26

Mas Granier Mas Montel

In 1945 Marcel Granier acquired Mas Montel, an estate in France’s Languedoc region. Today his sons Dominique, Jean-Philippe and their families manage the unique 100 acre property, which is home to olive and oak trees, sunflowers, and wheat in addition to vines. They produce regional appellations including Coteaux du Languedoc and Vin de Pays D’Oc. Their plantings are adapted to varied soil types, ranging from clay to limestone, all scattered amongst wild garrigue. The wines are round, fruit forward with good structure and concentration.
